

September 19—A prayer request from Okanogan Valley Alliance Church in Okanogan, Washington. In their area the devastation is great from the fires.

“Many local folks have lost home, outbuilding, and animals...Even though horses and livestock made it through the fire, many cannot be healed and are dying. Wild animal are hurting and starving as the vegetation has burned. People are putting out water troughs, salt licks, and all-purpose livestock food to help the wildlife. Our community is coming together with donations for people in need. We have hope and a God of grace, mercy, and comfort and as Christ’s ambassadors; we can be a smiling, warm, caring body to those who are hurting.”

Shelly LaGroy, Treasurer, Okanogan Valley Alliance Church
